Professional Services BIRT OEM Discovery Package

This Professional Services package will provide you with software and services to evaluate Actuate BIRT commercial extensions for your OEM application. Discover what is already there and avoid the expense of building what you will be better off buying.

Actuate commercial BIRT will make your BIRT reports interactive and allow your users to manage and build reports directly from within your application.

Our package provides Actuate BIRT software and services to guide you as you integrate Actuate BIRT with your application to enhance your user experience.

Overview

Your application uses open source Eclipse BIRT for reporting and comes with several default reports. You benefit from the ease of incorporating powerful reporting in your application for your users.

Developing new reports is possible for your users given training and with the development skills required to use the Eclipse BIRT Designer. What this package does is to easily allow you to evaluate Actuate's BIRT-based products to offer more business friendly ways of interacting with reports and building custom reports integrated with your application.

The Professional Services OEM Discovery Package includes all of Actuate's software with a 90-day evaluation license and five days of services to allow you to determine the value add to your application.

Actuate BIRT software provides many additional ways to enhance information delivery from your application allowing your users to extract more value.
